Warren “Cro” Cromartie Speaks at SPT 3150
Students in the Facility and Event Management class were not only entertained by learned from the “Cro” on April 5, 2011. Warren Cromartie, a native of South Florida, played for the Montreal Expos from 1974 to 1983 before heading to the Tokyo Giants where he played until returning to States in 1991 to finish his baseball career with the Kansas City Royals. The “Cro” talked about various facilities around MLB and Japan. He also talked about his current career in sports talk radio. You can hear “Talkin’ Hardball with the Cro” on 790 The Ticket each Saturday afternoon prior to Marlins baseball.

“Cro” talked about his NSU experience and gave the students a shout out during a recent show!
