M.B.A. with a major in Supply Chain Management and Operational Systems

As long as goods are made in one place and buyers are in another, there will always be a demand for supply chain talent. Answer the call by becoming a leader in the industry. Gain a competitive advantage at NSU.

The M.B.A. with a major in Supply Chain Management and Operational Systems will provide you with a foundation in advanced business administration while focusing on the strategy and execution of ensuring efficient, profitable movement, and storage of goods—from point-of-origin to consumption. You'll learn from Fortune 500 business executives and other industry leaders who can provide insights and leadership, while you do hands-on work on real-world projects. Logistics and supply chain networks are complex, but you'll be ready to handle a variety of challenges with confidence, while helping streamline daily operations.

Upon completion of the program, you'll be prepared to sit for internationally recognized certifications, including APICS' Certified Supply Chain Professional, ISM'S Certified Professional in Supply Chain Management, and PMI's Certified Associate in Project Management or Project Management Professional.
