M.B.A. with a major in Process Improvement

You're ready to become the most valuable problem-solver in business. But first, you need to learn how to successfully manage tough business challenges and design cost-effective solutions. Our program can give you a competitive advantage in a crowded field of candidates.

The M.B.A. with a major in Process Improvement provides you with a foundation in advanced business administration while focusing on the expertise you need to drive higher performance, quality, cost, and ROI. You'll learn from Fortune 500 business executives and other industry leaders—who can provide insights and leadership, as well as offer mentorship opportunities. Our curriculum prepares you to respond to global pressures, changing markets, and other business shifts, all while promoting a proactive work culture.

In addition, you'll have hands-on opportunities to solve real-world challenges posed by local area companies. And, upon completion of the program, you'll be prepared to sit for three internationally recognized certifications: ASQ's Certified Six Sigma Black Belt, SME's Lean Bronze, and PMI's Project Management Professional. With your new skill set and experiences, you'll have an edge over other professionals in the industry.
