Angela Schukei wins Scholarship!

Congratulations to Angela Schukei. She answered the call last spring when the Palm Beach Cardinals asked for a volunteer. Angela has been driving to Jupiter on Tuesday’s throughout the summer to assist not only the Cardinals but the Jupiter Hammerheads (Marlins affiliate). When she heard about the Florida State League Scholarship, which is partially funded by the Marlins, she applied and was selected to receive one of twelve $1,000 scholarships! She was honored before a game in Jupiter and threw out an honorary first pitch. In addition, she was recognized along with other scholarship winners before the Marlins vs. Giants game on Sunday, August 14, 2011. Angela is pictured above with Melissa Kuper, Assistant GM for Roger Dean Stadium, and Jeffrey Jackson, scholarship winner for the Jupiter Hammerheads. Angela helped with the Kids Club, prize wheel, launch-a-ball, and even served as a Promotion Assistant at games.

Successful people know how to manage their time. Think about Angela Schukei’s success in the story above. She took advantage of an opportunity to volunteer. She is not getting classroom credit for her experience. However, she ends up with valuable experience which she can add to her resume and just think how much she will have to offer in classroom discussions. And, oh by the way, she ended up with a $1,000 scholarship.

TIME MANAGEMENT

The fall semester starts Monday, August 22, 2011. Think about the importance of managing your time and come up with a system. If you don’t have a calendar, get one! Do what works for you. It might be a wall calendar with all the months of the year. It could be the calendar on your smart phone.

Kuper, Assistant GM for Roger Dean Stadium, and Jeffrey Jackson, scholarship winner for the Jupiter Hammerheads. Angela helped with the Kids Club, prize wheel, launch-a-ball, and even served as a Promotion Assistant at games. Asked about any memorable experiences and she said the night when a baby raccoon was found in the stadium and Animal Control had to be called.

Check out page two of this issue of the newsletter. The sports industry wants to get Nova Southeastern University on their team! Contact Professor Olson for more details.
Miami Dolphins Special Teams - Leslie Bauknight Nixon reports that she is very happy with the students which we have sent to the Dolphins. She is looking for more students to join the Special Teams. Interns assist with database management, log service hours, help create, coordinate and/or manage volunteer service events and more!

Miami Dolphins Foundation - Jessica Vones is looking for game day volunteers at upcoming Miami Dolphins games. Here’s a great way to add experience to your resume. This opportunity should provide enough hours to serve as Practicum experience. Jessica also indicates that a game day volunteer position may turn into a paid position!

Florida Panthers - The Panthers have made lots of positive moves during the off-season. Here’s a chance to be part of their goal to make the play-offs in 2012. Dan Goldring has graduated and the Panthers would like to find another NSU student who wants to serve as Stanley C. Panther’s assistant. In addition, Sheri Albert, Manager of Human Resources, indicates that there are several other internship opportunities this season.

Orange Bowl Committee - Mitch Morrali is the VP of Events and Operations for the Orange Bowl Committee. He is excited about getting NSU students involved with this annual event. The Youth Football Alliance Cheer and Dance event is scheduled for November 6th at the University Center and he is looking for volunteer and intern support. In addition, the OB Committee would welcome our students to work together on an event or even the game!

NSU Sharks - As previously reported there are several opportunities right in your own backyard. The NSU Sharks, NCAA II, are getting ready for another season in the Sunshine State Conference. Jennifer Bucknell, Game Operations Assistant and Athletics Camp Coordinator, is more than happy to explore ways that will benefit you through Work Study, volunteering and more! B. Keith Smith, Assistant Athletic Director for Communications and External Operations has also expressed a desire to use Sport and Recreation Management students.

Town of Davie - The Town of Davie Parks and Recreation gave Sheree Schuetz an opportunity last Winter Term to serve as an intern. The Town is open to working with other students. In addition, the Special Events Department is looking for interns. Here’s a chance to help the Town celebrate its 50th Birthday! You would get experience close to campus and save on gas. This is a great opportunity to network with Town decision-makers.

University School - Staying close to home, the Suns have an outstanding athletic department. Here’s a chance to learn about high school athletics and University School’s competitive edge. Football practice is already underway. Thanks to Matt Fisher, NSU grad, for sharing this opportunity.

MORE OPPORTUNITIES NEXT WEEK!
Sport and Recreation Management Newsletter returns as a weekly publication with the start of the Fall Semester at Nova Southeastern University.
