Ms. Olson,

Good afternoon. My name is Matt Marske and I am the Director of Operations for TPG Sports Group. We specialize in connecting students with leaders in the sports industry. Our President and Board of Directors are made up of NBA Executives, NBA Coaches, Scouts and an ESPN analyst. We have an unmatched network in the global sports industry. Through our work, many students and young professionals have secured employment in the professional and collegiate sports industry. Visit our website at tpgsportsgroup.com for more information.

We have an upcoming event that your students at Nova Southeastern may be interested in. The HoopHall Basketball Invitational is taking place in Miami on December 1st. In conjunction with the Invitational, we are offering "The Scouting Experience" on 11/30 and 12/1 for those interested in a career in the basketball industry after school.

Over the course of two days, students will get hands-on training from a 14-year NBA executive, Pete Philo (Mavs, Timberwolves & Pacers). They will receive a variety of presentations on talent evaluation, and will also be invited to an evening networking social. To top it off, students would also scout actual basketball games on-site at the tournament and have their reports evaluated. The best report from the event will be sent to an NBA GM and Pete will also bring a special guest from the NBA to our private sessions.

This is an extremely rare opportunity for them to scout & evaluate NBA prospects while learning from the best. We are limiting this event to 25 people in order to make it exclusive and personal.

If you or any of your students have questions, please don't hesitate to reach out. You're welcome to share my contact information with them. Tickets are available until November 15 or until they sell out. Here is our site where tickets can be purchased: <https://tpgsportsgroup.com/scouting/>

Thanks,

Matt Marske, J.D.
